

OVERVIEW

DFDL's Aviation team has extensive experience advising on a wide range of aviation-related matters, including all aspects of the airport construction, purchase, sale, and leasing of private and commercial aircrafts, representing both buyers/lessors and purchasers/lessees, company establishment, acquisitions, joint ventures and compliance matters. Additionally, we have advised clients on aircraft tax issues, aircraft registration matters, and national security concerns and requirements. We also handle all aspects of aircraft financing, as well as agreements for providing operating and ground services to third party operators, and agreements on remote luggage delivery operations and air carriers. We also represent airlines and airline-related service businesses and have cultivated excellent working relationships with industry contacts and key government stakeholders.
